The successful defense of complex claims requires keeping abreast of an ever-changing legal landscape. To that end, Eagle is pleased to present an instructive seminar featuring insurance industry leaders and Eagle attorneys sharing their insights into and experiences in some of the most rapidly changing areas of the law.

Indemnity provisions are one of the most common and powerful contract provisions to shift financial exposure. Our seminar begins with a panel discussing best practices to navigate the protections and perils associated with risk assignment and risk transfer. The online world presents new challenges from data breaches and other privacy risks. Our next panel focuses on understanding and combating the increasing number of cyber torts and their related coverage issues. The third and final panel will address new issues and claims strategies for defending attorney professional liability claims.

We will also highlight the great strides the defense bar has made in many jurisdictions attacking and limiting medical expense damages. Our Eagle attorneys will break down these developments in the collateral source rule and the potential impact of the Affordable Care Act on further reducing exposure for such damages.
