Presents

FALL 2023 CONFERENCE

OCTOBER 11, 2023

BOSTON

COURTYARD BOSTON DOWNTOWN HOTEL

Whether you refer to Boston as the “Cradle of Liberty”, or as the “Hub of the Universe”, as Oliver Wendell Holmes so modestly put it, please join us in this great American city on October 10-11 for a spirited review of some very timely topics that affect all our professional lives and undertakings.

- Assault Claims, Sexual and Otherwise. Claims that alleged negligence in failing to prevent assaultive or neglectful conduct, in schools, nursing homes, houses of worship, camps and other settings can be among the most challenging cases to defend and achieve successful results.
- Artificial Intelligence. The dreaded “A.I.” What is it up to, and where are we seeing its influence? What does it mean for the legal and claims professions and what do we need to start thinking about in order not to get blindsided (or simply replaced) by it?
- Professional Liability. It never goes away. Our panel of experienced speakers – professionals themselves – will identify and discuss some pertinent topics in the field.
- Lithium-Ion Batteries. With electric-powered everything (cars, bikes, etc.) the prevalence of lithium-ion batteries is becoming more and more obvious. Are we seeing more claims simply because there are more batteries out there? Hear from folks who have some actual experience in an emerging area of product liability law so you have been alerted to this newly trending topic.
