

EAGLE RETURNS IN PERSON TO CHICAGO MAY 10TH

While we Sheltered in Place: What's Happening in the World of Claims?

Do you feel like you're awakening groggy and confused from a long slumber? Do you have the sense that something MUST have happened in the world since the world shut down but you don't know what? Are you wondering what the effect of the pandemic is going to be as you return to the "normal" world of lawsuits and claims?

Then come join Eagle International (www.eagle-law.com) on May 10, 2022, at W City Center when we return to Chicago with another of its strategic educational conferences for claims professionals and the lawyers who serve them. This year, Eagle examines topics that cut right to the bottom line – issues that determine whether your company and your insureds are likely to succeed. Among the topics at this conference will be: "Social Inflation: How Settlements and Verdicts are Causing Depression" – a careful look at post-pandemic skyrocketing verdicts and settlements and how to combat them; "The Enemy of My Enemy is Not Necessarily My Friend" – which will examine the delicate dance between cooperation and all-out war with our co-defendants; and "Anything Happen While I Was In Lockdown" -- where an expert panel will take a sweeping look at the immediate impact of the pandemic on our claims and legal systems and discuss its likely ramifications.

Finally, because we know that, after more than two years of relative isolation and no Eagle in-person conferences, you have a lot on your mind, and because Chicago is perhaps best known for its "Second City" tradition of improv, Eagle will for the first time, offer a lightning round panel to address the topics YOU select on the spot. As part of your registration and again at the beginning of the conference, you will be asked to identify topics of interest. At the end of the day, like a good improv comedy troupe, our panel will lead a discussion built around those issues.

As always, this year's Eagle conference will be led by very experienced lawyers and will feature a highly talented and diverse group of claims professionals who have all achieved great success in their positions. In addition, Eagle will offer its usual hospitality, featuring good food, good drink and its unique welcoming spirit and friendship. Join us as we return to social engagement, collegiality and purposeful interaction. The world – and life as we used to know and love it – awaits.

We hope that you will come and participate, come and learn and come and enjoy. We look forward to seeing you on May 10th at the W City Center.
