

EAGLES FLY TO THE INSURANCE CAPITAL OF THE WORLD!

OCTOBER 19, 2018
Hartford Marriott Downtown

You are invited to join the members of Eagle International Associates at the Hartford Marriott Downtown for a complimentary seminar and lunch - Insurance Claims: Some Are More Complicated Than Others on Friday, October 19th. As a special treat, Eagle and its guests will be welcomed by Hartford's mayor, the Honorable Luke Bronin, who will kick off our conference. In a city known for having the oldest continually published newspaper in America (Hartford Courant, since October 29, 1764) and where the first law book containing the federal laws of the country was published in 1791), the role of lawyers, insurers and an educated society have always been recognized and we are especially honored to have the Mayor visit with us during our conference.

Eagle moderators and industry guest panelists will address important issues in and offer valuable strategies in:

- Coping with and effectively managing your experts;
- Evaluating and trying sex and gender-related claims and defending lawsuits in the #MeToo era;
- Dealing with the thorny issue of adjuster professional liability and how it can be prevented; and
- Successfully navigating the ethical pitfalls encountered in handling and defending claims, including what insurers can and cannot expect from panel counsel.

Keeping it fun for everyone, we welcome a lively discussion from the audience as well. Please join us for this engaging, timely and thought-provoking discussion on why some insurance claims are more complicated than others!
